Tipping on Board – A Meaningful Gesture

On cruise boats around the world, it is customary to leave a tip for the crew at the end of the trip.

A Rooted Tradition in Indonesia

On cruise boats around the world, it is customary to leave a tip for the crew at the end of the trip.

- Local Guideline: Around 10% of the total cruise price is the standard practice here.
- Recognition, Not Compensation: It's not about low wages, but about showing appreciation for the quality of service and care provided.

Fairness and Team Spirit

- Shared by All: Tips are evenly distributed among all crew members — including those working behind the scenes.
- A Demanding Job: The crew works with full energy, to make your cruise unforgettable. They go far beyond the basics — every day, they offer the very best of themselves, with heart and dedication of service and care provided.

ADDITIONAL FEES

A Tangible Way to Give Back

A Real Impact: In Indonesia, tips often help entire families and communities — your gesture goes far beyond the boat. It shows your gratitude and has a real impact on the lives of those who welcomed you so warmly.

Important to know

- Tipping is not mandatory. These are simply guidelines, and you are free to decide what feels right.
- Ultimately, a tip should reflect your personal satisfaction with the service you received.
